

Proclamation

By the Mayor of Nampa Debbie Kling

Where on November 8th annually, planners in over 30 countries recognize World Town Planning Day, an international practice that began in 1949; and,
as,
Where The American Planning Association (APA), recognizes this day to celebrate the accomplishments of planners and the contribution planners have made to their communities; and,
as,
Where World Town Planning Day is an opportunity for planners to host and engage in national and local public events such as conferences, walking tours, presentations, and recognize people, projects, and development in the field of urban planning that raise awareness about the importance of good planning; and,
as,
Where on an exponential scale, the planning landscape is always changing. Planning in Nampa has far-reaching implications for the future of our community. Professional planners bring their experience and expertise to help inform choices and inspire communities; and,
as,
Where planners have been involved in significant projects in our City including the creation and revitalization of various neighborhoods, the development of trails, pathways, and other public spaces, the future planning of key development areas in the City of Nampa, and providing education and outreach for the citizens of Nampa on the importance of planning; and,
as,
Where the contributions made by planners working with various City Boards and Commissions, other organizations and groups, and community members, have had a positive impact on the places we live, work, play, and worship in the City of Nampa.

Now Therefore, I, Debbie Kling Mayor of the City of Nampa, Idaho, do hereby proclaim November 8th in the City of Nampa as:

“World Town Planning Day”

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the City of Nampa to be affixed this 4th day of November in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-four.

Debbie Kling
Mayor, City of Nampa
